

Rachel Janosik

Rachel Janosik, a recent graduate of Enumclaw High School in Washington state, was excited about the travel opportunities at her new job with Horizon Air, a subsidiary of Alaska Airlines.

"She was really getting into traveling," said her brother, Matt, 18. "We just got her a set of luggage for Christmas."

Janosik, a food and beverage agent for the airlines, was able to travel free on certain Alaska flights. She recently traveled to Puerto Vallarta, Mexico and loved it so much that she invited two of her old Enumclaw classmates on another trip.

She and friends Meghann Hall and Ryan Sparks were on the flight.

"They were all terrific kids," said Principal Terry Parker. "This is a very sad day here."
